A SERMON TO STUDENTS.

DR. H. C. MINTON ADDRESSES UNIVERSITY GRADUATES.

A Powerful Sermon on "The Claims of Religion Upon Educated Thought."

The baccalaureate sermon to the class of '98 was preached Sunday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church by Dr. H. C. Minton. The class established a new custom by attending in a body. President Kellogg assisted in conducting the services.

Dr. Minton's subject was "The Claims of Religion Upon Educated Thought." He said that education should be manifest in three ways—first in the knowledge of things, second in the possession of convictions, and third in moral worth. "Religion," said the preacher, "is of vital importance to each of these things.

"Religion has to do vitally with what we know. The spirit of industrious and impartial intelligence very soon encounters the facts and forces and phenomena of religion. They are too ubiquitous to be ignored, too persistent to be obliterated, too influential to be poohpoohed. Spoken of merely as a fact, religion is of prodigious importance. You cannot write history, you cannot read history without reckoning with this myriad-sided fact. I am not saying that it is good or bad, either true or false. I am only saying that it is, and therefore, ipso facto, has a claim upon every mind that calls itself educated.

"Conceivably religion may be false from top to bottom. Conceivably the institutions of religion are but a foul nest of lies; the all-pervading conception of a living and eternal God may conceivably be the figment of men's morbid fancy; the altars and priests and prayers and penances, and punishments which have been sanctified in the name of a supreme ruler, may conceivably be but the superstitions of primitive conditions—even such a superstition, such a figment, has held its place so long and so stubbornly among men, that no man who calls himself educated can afford not to know what and why it is.

"The very nature of religious question are such that intellectual indifference is criminal, intellectual neutrality is impossible. Hence it is that it constitutes an invasion into the sacred province of conviction. Here at least knowledge must be followed by believing. Every thoughtful person has some philosophy. If your philosophy may not include the living God, it must at least include, and account for man's conception of such a God. If you are to be educated you cannot stop this side of knowing what is, and what is involved in religion. Knowing this, your knowledge will be of such a kind that you will be compelled to form convictions upon the questions which it will present.

"Religion is furthermore entitled to your intellectual regard, because it is such a tremendously influential moral force among men. Right or wrong, it is vested with almost immeasurable power."

THE DUTY OF THE CHURCH TO THOSE WITHOUT.

In the North Congregational Church, Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. J. A. Cruzan, being still in the Hawaiian Islands, Rev. E. Lyman Hood preached a sermon on the above subject that elicited much commendation.

The theme had been suggested by the recent controversy over the Fabiola Hospital Day at the race track. In speaking of it, he said:

"If an institution may be judged by its influences and results, there can be no question about the iniquitous character of this race-track. It is sustained by gambling which saps the vigor of youth and destroys the strength of manhood. The paint had not dried on its building before a victim had been furnished the gallows. A recent defaulter in San Francisco declares his downfall was owing to the race-track. On every side we see that this passion burns up men, consumes women, destroys life, murders the soul, curses God and despises Heaven.

"The benevolent women of Oakland undoubtedly had the best of motives in offering to help Fabiola Hospital, but they ought to be in better company than the race-track crowd which exhibits itself on the ferry and trains during the races. This hospital is doing a beneficent work, one eminently worthy of the support of the churches.

"To redeem humanity, God sent his Son into the world, and true redemption saves the body as well as the soul of man. From the earliest ages, hospitals have been fostered and supported by the churches."

FESTIVAL OF THE MASONS.

DURANT LODGE'S PART IN ITS GREAT SUCCESS.

Thirty Thousand Dollars Realized for the Widows' and Orphans' Home.

The Masonic festival in San Francisco was one of the most successful fetes of the kind ever held in California. The attendance was very large every night during the week and $30,000 or more was made for the widows' and orphans' home in behalf of which the festival was held.

The Berkeley lodge's coffee and sandwich booth was among the successes of the week, being well patronized throughout the festival. A number of ladies gave almost their whole time to the booth during the week and the lodge generally showed deep interest in the project.

The following ladies of Durant Dodge have been active members of the committee which arranged for the lodge's booth at the Masonic Festival in aid of the Widows and Orphans Home: Mrs. Clarence M. Hunt, chairman; Mrs. William McCleave, vice-chairman; Miss P. M. Hunt, secretary; Mrs. Samuel Heywood, treasurer; Mrs. T. R. Shipman, Miss E. B. Rankin, Mrs. F. M. Berryman, Mrs. Theodore Wagner, Mrs. P. A. Wagner, Mrs. Joseph McClain, Mrs. G. R. Noack, Mrs. T. F. Graber, Mrs. Samuel S. Clarke, Mrs. H. M. Rhorer, Mrs. D. M. An Invitation.

If you are married take your family, or if you are single take your best girl to see "Rebecca's Triumph," a three act comedy, given by the Excelsior Dramatic Club at Shattuck Hall on Friday evening, May 20th, for the sum of 25 cents admission. At the close of the performance, if you are faint and weary with your exertions of laughing at this pleasing play, you will find, for a very small sum refreshments served by a bevy of beautiful young ladies, and if you wish to trip the light fantastic you will have delightful music to guide your footsteps. Come one, come all, and you will not regret it, at Shattuck Hall.

Men's League of the First Presbyterian church met with J. W. Richards Saturday evening, but owing to the small number in attendance they postponed the meeting until next Saterday evening in the Sunday school room. Miss Fannie McLean was elected Recording Secretary and Capt. J. T. Morrison Corresponding Secretary.

VOLUNTEERS FOR THE WAR.

A COMPANY IS BEING FORMED HERE.

The Members Expect to Go With the Next Call for Volunteers.

A military company is being organized in Berkeley to volunteer for war. It is expected that arrangements can be made whereby the company will be called to the front with the next lot of soldiers that leave, and in view of the report from Washington that another call for volunteers is to be made, many Berkeleyans are offering their services.

Dr. J. C. Jessup, E. J. Stewart, Paolo Salisbury and others are the organizers of the movement. Already they have good sized list of would-be soldiers and no trouble is anticipated in forming a full sized company. If the Company should not be called it will probably remain as a military organization and be the first that Berkeley ever had.

THE MONUMENT TO PROFESSOR SILL.

A week from this evening a fine concert will be given in the Oakland Unitarian church for the benefit of the Sill memorial fountain fund. The arrangements, as far as the program is concerned, are practically completed, and the array of talent bespeaks an unusually enjoyable evening. Those who will participate are Senor Michelena, tenor; Charles B. Parcells, violinist; Berkeley Quartette, orchestra under the direction of Alex. Stewart; Mrs. Charlotte Cushman, contralto; John Metcalf, pianist. Tickets will be half a dollar, and are on sale at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s on Broadway.

The plan to erect a fountain on the High School grounds to the memory of Professor E. R. Sill, the poet, who was at one time a teacher in the Oakland school, found its inception with the High School students. Since then the alumni and all those interested in higher education have taken an interest in the matter and it is now practically sure of success.

Reading for Soldiers.

The Presbyterian Y. P. S. C. E. Society are planning to send good reading matter to the soldiers who are going out to the Philippines, hence an appeal was made yesterday for all recent magazines and books of interest, to be sent to Miss Crusoe, 2606 Bancroft way.

The Salvation Army hold meetings in West Berkeley M. E. church every Thursday evening at 8.

The fight proceeded on the sidewalk or some time before the men were separated. The father who undertook to avenge an insult to his son got the worst of the encounter, and his face was a fearful sight when the men were separated.

A local physician was called to attend the banged-up fighter but declined the case.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.

There is but one way to keep informed of the progress and development of Berkeley, and that is to peruse the improvement column which is published in the GAZETTE every Wednesday.

THE RAINFALL.

The rain has come rather late to be of much advantage, but it is not unwelcome to the farmers in the vicinity of Berkeley. Some of the crops which have been cut are to a considerable extent spoiled, but the grain which is still uncut will be benefited to a degree which will counterbalance the loss to the hay already cut. The gardens of our city were beginning to lose their freshness and beauty, but the moisture is exercising a reviving effect. The streets are likewise the gainers.

TEMPORARY SETBACKS,

This does not seem to be a very good year for floral exhibits. The one which was conducted by the Berkeley Floral Society was so ill appreciated by the general public that the members of the organization expressed their disgust in print. The exhibit of the State society in San Francisco also seems to lack the quality of attracting public interest. Nevertheless the lovers of flowers should not despair. They have been successful in the past, and with the proper degree of energy and persistence there is no reason why they should not be equally successful in the future.

TUNNEL TALK.

Mrs. Mollie Connors, editor of Saturday Night has the following to say of Contra Costa county in an article advocating the construction of the much talked of tunnel:

"The Contra Costa fruit has a peculiarity which makes a good market for it very necessary; it is the latest in the State to ripen—it grows slowly, is more developed, and lasts longer. The climatic conditions are so perfect that the long hillslopes, and little valleys would make ideals farms, in which thrifty people might easily make a prosperous living.

"Statistics show that three million dollars are sent out of our State each year for eggs and poultry. It is also true that Contra Costa is the very best county in the State for the raising of poultry.

"There is a genuine citrus belt in Contra Costa county capable of producing some of the finest fruit in the world, notably grapes—the long, dry hillsides being specially suited for grape culture.

"Indeed one must go away from home to learn the news of the neighborhood. Last year a German firm in Hamburg, shipped from Walnut Creek one hundred tons of prunes."

The importance of the work is also urged from the fact that it will afford relief to hundreds of men who must either be afforded employment, sustained by charity or starve the coming winter.

DON'T BLUSTER.

The shallow man talks loudly. Strong emphasis in advertising, either in language or typography, make about the same impression as does the loud, boisterous talker. The refined, gentle voiced solicitor with pent up energy can sell more goods to intelligent buyers than the solicitor who is "mouthy" and "frothy." Let this be a cue in your advertising. Don't make the mistake of thinking that your voice must be heard above the din of your noisy competitors. When everything is emphasized, nothing is emphasized. If you start to emphasize you must keep up the pace you have set. If you lie one day you must lie bigger the next day. To startle the public with type you must keep on increasing its blackness and its size. The head-lines of some of the New York papers are good examples. We may expect soon to see the whole first page taken up with one word in billboard type. Then in the advertisement, if too many lines are accentuated in heavy the desired effect is lost. How much more effective are simple facts couched in homely phrases, set in modest type.—Advertising Experience.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

This column is edited by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Berkeley.

The large number of rejections of volunteers has caused much comment in the army medical corps. However, the physicians who have conducted the examinations say that outside of the ranks of cigarette smokers, there are even fewer objections than there were in the days of the Civil War. Among the habitual users of the cigarette the rejections are about ninety per cent.

Dr Benjamin King of Philadelphia, who was examining surgeon during 1861-63 in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, says the average rejection during those years did not exceed thirteen per cent. He attributes the large increase almost entirely to the cigarette habit.

A visitor to the Richmond, Va., tobacco factories tells graphically of the methods there used. "The tobacco leaves are laid upon the floor, often a very dirty one, and a negro man with bare feet walks back and forth over them, sprinkling them with the flavoring, and, as he says: 'Stamping it wid dese two foots.' Meanwhile he chews tobacco and adds its juice to the flavoring."

* * * * *

All who care to do so can obtain reliable testimony in their own midst to the effect that tobacco is a poison, that it stunts the growth of the young and injures their nerves, retards digestion, blunts the intellectual faculties and damages the heart; the list of reputable scientists who testify to the same and even worse things, is practically endless. Charles Buckley Hubbell, counselor-at-law and president of the New York Board of Education, says: "Legislation on the cigarette question can be readily secured, and it furnishes a substantial basis upon which to found the more promising work which is based upon creating a sentiment against the vice."

DESPITE THE RAIN.

"What step do you propose to take now?" inquired Don Carlos' friend.

"None whatever. Success is before me. In order to obtain the crown now all I need do is wait a few months longer till nobody else wants it."

"It's remarkable," said Senator Sorghum, "how differently people are affected by the same thing."

"Have you been reading medicine?"

"No. I was thinking of my speech. It kept me awake four nights, and put everybody who heard it to sleep."

A lawyer and his client were descending the steps of the city hall.

"Suppose," said the client, "that Spain decides to send the fleet from Cadiz to Manila. Could it coal at neutral ports?"

"That would be a question in international law."

"Then I guess we're all right. If they go to law on the point the war will be over long before it is settled."

"How has General Blankspace been getting along?" inquired one member of the Spanish cabinet.

"I don't think he has been losing as many men as usual," replied the other. "He hasn't reported any victories for some time."

SAN FRANCISCO IS ALSO JAY

THE FLOWER SHOW THERE A FINANCIAL FAILURE

Berkeleyans Who Made Good Showings in the State Exhibit.

San Francisco is even more jay than Berkeley when it comes to flower shows. George N. Tyler recently classed the college town as in the jay list with Oakland and Alameda, but the metropolis has just made a record that is worse than that of Berkeley. The State Flower Society's flower show just held was a worse financial failure than the one held here.

As usual the strongest exhibit was made by John H. Sievers, who had the stage and the space in front of it. He exhibited roses, carnations, pelargoniums, orchids, palms, ferns and other green house plants, and the display was so arranged as to be one perfect and harmonious whole. The most remarkable feature was, perhaps, the enromous bunch of American Beauty roses, about a hundred blooms, having stems four or five feet in length. Some carnations also were of extraordinary size and beauty.

Demoto Brothers of Fruitvale had a good exhibit arranged in the Japanese style. George N. Tyler of Alameda made a good exhibit arranged in the Japanese style. George N. Tyler of Alamoda made a great exhibit of pelargoniums, both plants and cut flowers. It was one of the best pelargonium exhibits ever made on the coast.

Mrs. Llewelling of Haywards exhibited some beautiful clematis, peonies and azaleas. Mr. John Hinkel, who took honors at the Berkeley show, exhibited some roses which were exceptionally good. Mr. Walker of Piedmont had a general exhibit. Mr George Hansen, landscape architect, exhibited plans for landscape improvements.

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK OF Alameda County, Cal.

Notice is hereby given that all citizens whose names are not now on the Great Register of Alameda county are requested to register in order to be entitled to vote at the next General election in November 1898.

That it is NOT necessary for voters who registered, or the general election of 1896 and whose names appear on the Great Register of 1896 to again make affidavit for registration UNLESS SINCE THE DATE OF LAST REGISTRATION THEY HAVE CHANGED THEIR PLACE OF RESIDENCE.

That registration will continue to and including August 9th, 1898, after which it will cease.

HEATLH CATECHISM.

To Be Committed to Memory by All Dyspeptics, Invalids, Consumptives.

What is the first cause of nine-tenths of all disease?

Imperfect digestion of food.

Why does imperfect digestion cause disease of other organs?

Because blood, muscles, bone and flesh are derived from the food we eat and digest. If digestion is perfect the blood is pure, nerves and muscles strong, flesh firm. If the digestion is poor, the blood is supplied from half-digested, fermenting food, irritating every nerve and organ. The result is, sooner or later, organic disease, because every organ being poorly nourished the weakest gives way first and we have liver trouble, kidney complaints, heart disease or consumption.

Is not dieting the usual and best treatment to cure indigestion.

No, because the dyspeptic has been starved long enough, what is needed is abundant nourishment, not the lack of it. The stomach and blood demand nutriment, not bran crackers.

What is the best method of cure?

Plenty of wholesome food well digested.

But how can a weak stomach digest plenty of wholesome food.

By taking with the food after each meal certain harmless remedies which are known to digest food and thus nourish the blood and rest the weak stomach.

What are these harmless remedies?

The most valuable are: vegetable ferments, pure pepsin, Golden Seal and fruit salts. All of these are now combined in the form of pleasant tasting tablets sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Are these tablets superior to the various liquid preparations so called dyspepsia cures?

Most decidedly, because all liquid medicines become stale with age and lose whatever good qualities they may have had originally, while the tablet retains its properties indefinitely. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be carried in the pocket, always at hand ready for use when traveling or at daily occupation. They cost but 50 cents, and should be kept in every family. They keep the digestion perfect and save doctor's bills by warding off disease.

Are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets adapted to all forms of dyspepsia?

Yes, because in all cases the trouble results from indigested, fermenting food. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cause the food to be digested before it has time to ferment.

If you wish to know more about them ask your druggist for a package and try them.
